TITLE I SUBSTITUTE TEACHER NOTIFICATION

In January 2002, Congress passed The No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. Under this law Title I schools must notify parents of any changes in certification of the teaching staff working with children. All teachers and assistants employed at Title I schools must meet standards set aside by the federal government to ensure that all children receive a high quality education.

When substitutes are hired for extended periods of time to replace classroom teachers, extensive efforts are made to employ highly qualified personnel. Unfortunately, sometimes that is not possible. With this in mind, please accept this as notice that your child's teacher has been temporarily replaced with a substitute who does not meet the highly qualified criteria. This person was the best choice at the time and is being closely supervised to insure the students continue to make adequate yearly progress.

Contact your child's principal if you have any questions.
